Be-neath the rub-ber trees in far Pe-ru, A-long the Am-a-zon
 If you should jour-ney down to far Pe-ru, Leave all your grips be-hind,

When the rub-ber pick-ers have their work all thru There's some-thing go-ing on;—
 All the clothes you have to take a-long with you Are of a dif-f'rent kind;—

They get to-gether with their na-tive band They not-i-fy you one and all,— Then.
 The na-tives on-ly wear a string of beads That weigh a-bout a half an ounce,— For on the night se-lect-ed ev-'ry one's on hand To cel-e-brate the rub-ber ball.—

 ov-er in the trop-ics that is all you need To join the hap-py crowd and bounce.—

CHORUS

Oh you leap and you bound at the rub-ber ball, Then you slide and you glide all a - round the hall, - Smile! - and throw your shoul - ders back.

Bump did - dle - di - ump like a jump - ing - jack. Ev - 'ry step's full o' pep and the mu - sic's grand, Lis - ten to the rub - ber band; They're rag - gin' up that mel - o - dy with min - or chords and har - mon - y So I don't care what be - comes of me; - Bounc - ing at the Rub - ber Ball, Oh you Ball.

You've got a look like Hen-ry Walt-hall in your eyes, — You're so roman-tic, You make me think of Fran-cis Bushman by your size, — You're so gi-gan-tic, You've got a Char-lie Chap-lin smile — That keeps me
